

Bundjalung NATIONAL PARK IIUKA NATURE RESERVE

ksia integri

Department of Environment & Climate Change NSW

Camping fees are payable at the self registration station at Black Rocks or the Woody Head Kiosk. You can stay for a maximum of 21 days. See each campground description for pricing details*. Children under five are free and child rates apply to 5-15 years.

Things to know before you go

Day or annual vehicle passes must be clearly displayed on your vehicle while you are in the park. Buy an annual vehicle pass and save. For more information, contact any NPWS office, see the Woody Head Kiosk, or visit www. environment.nsw.gov.au. Day passes can be purchased at $7* per day from self-registation stations at Gummigurrah picnic area and Black Rocks camping area, or from the Woody Head kiosk.

Rubbish disposal and recycling is only available at Woody Head Camping Area. Please remove all other rubbish from the park.

Water is only available at Woody Head Camping Area. For all other areas, take sufficient water for your stay.

Portaloo waste cannot be buried in the park or emptied into composting toilets. Contact local councils for disposal locations or take it home.

Firewood cannot be collected in the park. Use only the fireplaces and BBQ's provided. Firewood is available at Woody Head camping area. For all other sites, please bring your own. Check first that a cane toad hasn't hitched a ride!

Please don't bring ... generators, chainsaws, firearms, spearguns, animals (including the family dog or cat), plants or soil into Bundjalung National Park or Iluka Nature Reserve.

For your safety

- Iluka Beach is the only beach patrolled by lifequards.
- Do not feed wildlife (including goannas) or leave food unsecured. Keeping your campsite tidy will make it uninviting to scavenging animals.
- Watch out for snakes use a torch at night.
- Extinguish campfires completely with water not sand.
- Water is not available at all campsites.
- If you explore foreshore rockpools, leave animals and shells in their homes rather than take them to yours. Some species could inflict painful or deadly stings.
- Supervise children at all times.

Further information

NPWS North Coast Regional office Level 3, 49 Victoria Street (PO Box 361) Grafton NSW 2460 Phone: (02) 6641 1500 Fax: (02) 6643 5569 Email: northcoast.region@environment.nsw.gov.au

NPWS Northern Rivers Regional Office in Colonial Arcade 75 Main Street (PO Box 856) Alstonville 2477 Phone: (02) 6627 0200 Fax: (02) 6628 3937 Email: northernrivers.region@environment.nsw.gov.au

Woody Head Camping Area bookings

Phone: (02) 6646 6134 Fax: (02) 6646 6897 Email: Woodyhd@bigpond.net.au

Vehicle passes

Phone: 1300 361 967 www.environment.nsw.gov.au

Fishing permits Phone: 1300 369 365 www.fisheries.nsw.gov.au

* Fees current at time of printing and are subject to change.

Bookings cannot be made in advance for Black Rocks Camping Area. Sites are available on a first in/first served basis.

Published by Department of Environment and Climate Change NSW 59-61 Goulburn Street, Sydney. PO Box A290, Sydney South, 1232 Phone: 1300 361 967, web: www.environment.nsw.gov.au © Department of Environment and Climate Change, 2007.

DECC 2008/211

Welcome to country

When you visit Bundjalung National Park and Iluka Nature Reserve, you are within the traditional homelands of the Bundjalung and Yaegl Nations. In caring for these lands, we show our respect for elders past and present and their strong spiritual and cultural connection to this Country.

A special place

Vast heathland plains, mangrove mudflats, sandy beaches and the rocky headlands of the Iluka Penninsula make Bundjalung National Park a coastal treasure. Bundjalung, together with Iluka Nature Reserve and Yuraygir and Broadwater national parks, make up the largest stretch of protected coastline in New South Wales.

Bundjalung supports the endangered coastal Emu and the marine interface provides breeding grounds for the bright red-beaked Pied Oystercatchers.

At the centre of the park is the Bundjalung Wilderness Area. Nestled upon a large sandplain, it supports magnificient heaths, wetlands, lagoons and the Esk River – the longest undisturbed coastal river system in New South Wales.

Iluka Nature Reserve, a World Heritage Gondwana rainforest, is a small but valuable remnant of what was once an extensive coastal rainforest. Home to a superb range of birdlife including the White-eared Monarch and the rare Barred Cuckoo-shrike.

Things to do

Pack a picnic and enjoy the day use facilities throughout the park.

Spend time exploring the Esk River and Jerusalem Creek systems by canoe or kayak. Launch at Bill Weiley Bridge on Iluka Road for the Esk River and at the canoe pontoon at Black Rocks Camping Area for Jerusalem Creek.

For boating enthusiasts, Woody Head Camping Area has a public boat ramp. You can explore the Esk River south of Jackys Gully through riverine and mangrove ecosystems to the tidal Clarence River estuary. Access into the Bundjalung Wilderness Area above Jackys Gully is available to electric or non-powered craft only.

Recreational fishing is permitted in rivers, estuaries and along the coastline. Anglers require a permit from DPI Fisheries (see back cover for contact details). Spearfishing is not permitted in sections of Woody Bay.

Explore the Iluka Peninsula with its wave cut rock platforms and beaches. Look for, but don't take, the interesting marine life in the rockpools at low tide.

Best viewing points for whale watchers include the lookout at Iluka Bluff. From April to June whales are travelling north, returning with their young in early Spring.

Take a self-guided walk through Iluka Nature Reserve where informative signs share the secrets of this World Heritage Gondwana rainforest.

See map and legend over page for symbol definitions, picnic areas and walking track locations.

Go for a walk

Gummigurrah Walk¹

3.5km, 2 hours return, easy grade

Gummigurrah is an Aboriginal area – used as a winter camping ground for the Bundjalung people. From the picnic area, walk through open woodland, heath and rainforest to a shady midden beside the Evans River.

Jerusalem Creek Peninsula Track²

8km, 3 hours one way, easy grade

Follow Jerusalem Creek, a tea-tree stained freshwater creek, north from Black Rocks Camping Area to the beach.

Woody Head rock platform ³

1km, 30 minutes one way, slippery uneven surfaces Venture around the headland at Woody Head Camping Area for views to the south. Explore the rock platform, but just look at the rockpool animals and leave them in their homes.

Iluka Bluff Lookout 4

150m, 10 minutes one way, moderate grade with steps While at Iluka Bluff picnic area, take the steps to the top of the bluff where a viewing platform provides a spectacular outlook over Iluka Nature Reserve, coastal beaches and the mouth of the mighty Clarence River.

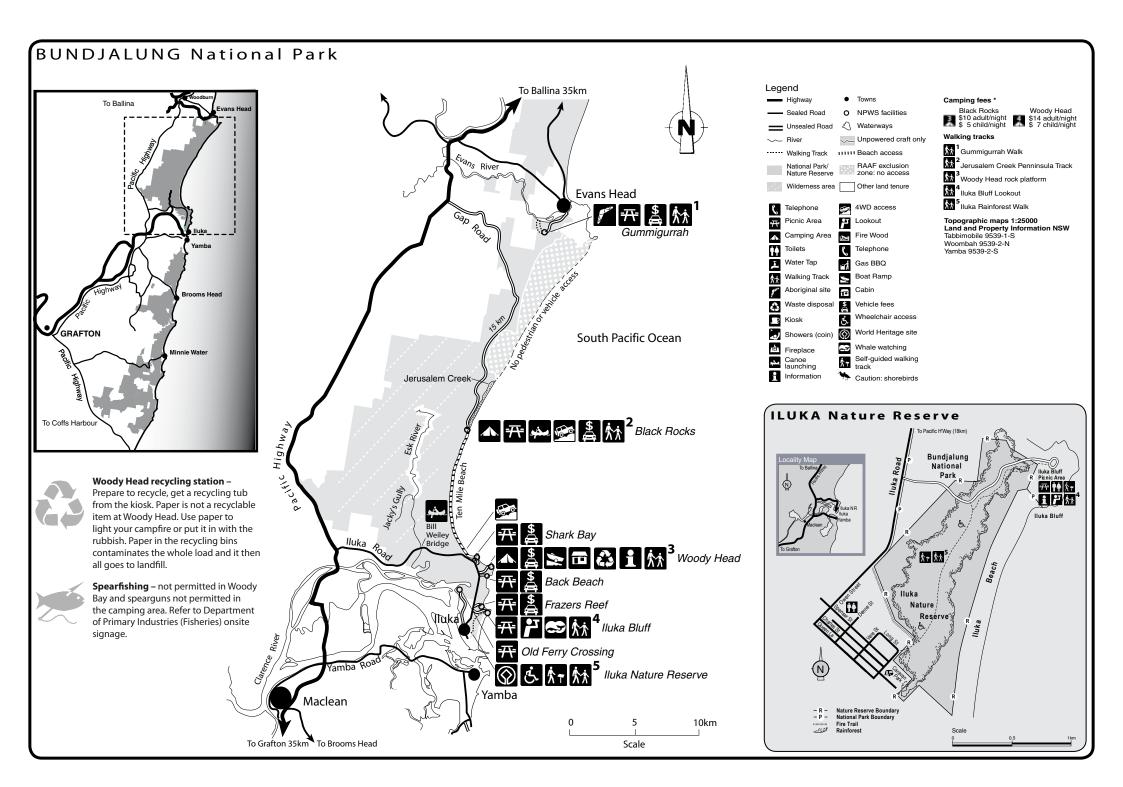

Iluka Rainforest Walk ⁵

2.5km, 1.5 hours one way, easy grade Take a stroll through the World Heritage Listed Gondwana Rainforest of Iluka Nature Reserve where tall trees are intertwined by strangler figs. If you walk quietly, you can hear the chatter of the brightly coloured Noisy Pitta and the sharp crack of the Whipbird. A section of this walk is wheelchair accessible. Wear insect repellent.

More information

Check onsite information boards for more information about the national park and nature reserve.

In the school holidays, take a Ranger guided Discovery tour. Check park noticeboards for planned activities or pre-book your tour before you leave home. View the Discovery program at www.environment.nsw.gov.au.

lluka Nature Reserve

ħħ ħŦ Ġ 🞯

Iluka Nature Reserve contains the largest remaining stand of littoral "by the sea" rainforest in New South Wales and is a World Heritage listed Gondwana rainforest.

Rich and diverse, it is an ecosystem adapted to a harsh environment of salt-laden winds and poor soils. The Riberry and Broad-leaved Lillypilly forest where strangler figs, ferns, epiphytes and vines intertwine is sheltered by protective sand dunes and salt-tolerant Tuckeroo and Banksia trees.

Home to more than 140 species of birds, the reserve is a bird watchers paradise. You might see the an Eastern Whipbird as it rustles through the leaf litter or hear its call – the whip crack belongs to the male and the sharp chirps (choow choow) to the female as she responds to the males call.

Iluka Nature Reserve wasn't always the thriving ecosystem it is today. In the early 1990s, the reserve was doomed to encroachment by weed species and in danger of being removed from the World Heritage list. But thanks to an extraordinary group of ordinary locals who formed the Iluka Landcare and Dunecare Group and committed many years of hard work, Iluka Nature Reserve was saved. Their work still continues as they weed, replant and restore koala habitat in the reserve and at Iluka Bluff.

Male Regent Bowerbird in his bower – decorated with shells, seeds, berries and shiny objects to attract a mate.

Black Rocks Camping Area

$ **} †

Set amongst Tuckeroo and Banksia trees behind the dunes at Ten Mile Beach, is the spacious Black Rocks Camping Area (47 sites). You will need to bring your own firewood. Water is not available – take enough for your stay. Suitable for tents, caravans and camper trailers. Unsealed 2WD access via Gap Road (15km). 4WD beach access to Ten Mile Beach. Campsite bookings cannot be made in advance.

Jerusalem Creek, accessed from the camping area, is a pleasant canoeing experience. A canoe launching pontoon is provided. Only non-powered or electric craft are permitted on the creek.

Woody Head Camping Area

ѮѮ҉Ѝ҉Ѿ҉҂҄҈Ӹӹ҄҄Ҁѽ҄҅҄҄҅≿ฅ҄Ҽ

Nestled behind Woody Bluff, Woody Head is a sheltered grassy camping area (103 sites) with a northern outlook towards Evans Head. A group camping site with cooking shelter is available and there are five cabins for hire ($80-$120/night*). Hot showers (20 cent coins required). Suitable for tents, caravans and camper trailers. Sealed 2WD access.

Book through the Woody Head Kiosk. For the NSW/Qld summer school holidays, bookings are taken from 1 March. For all other times, you can book 12 months in advance.

Go fishing, snorkelling or explore the interesting sea life at low tide in the rock pools. Look, but don't touch or take.

Spearguns are not permitted in the camping area and the Department of Primary Industries (Fisheries) prohibits spearfishing in Woody Bay and over the rock platform.

Driving on the beach

Beaches carry two-way traffic and have hazards including washouts and exposed rocks, particularly after heavy rain and rough seas. Safe travelling speeds could be much lower than signposted limits. Plan to travel two hours either side of low tide when there is wide beach and hard surface to drive on.

Speed limits – beach speed limits are 40 km/h.

No go zones – vehicles are not permitted on the beach north of Black Rocks Camping Area or south of the Shark Bay beach access track.

Road rules – road rules on beaches are the same as those on bitumen roads. Vehicles must be registered and seatbelts worn at all times. All drivers must hold a current driver's licence. It is illegal to carry passengers outside the vehicle cabin, in utility trays or on boat trailers.

Advertise your intentions – keep to the left of oncoming vehicles. Use indicators when overtaking or turning.

Stay off the dunes – it is illegal to drive on dunes. Only use defined access tracks. Foredunes provide the only nesting places for shorebirds and sea turtles. Fragile grasses are easily damaged leading to dune destabilisation.

Give way to people on the beach – pedestrians often cannot hear approaching vehicles above the sound of surf or strong winds. Slow down near people on the beach, especially around children. Pedestrians have right of way.

Give seabirds a wide berth – so they can rest, feed and breed. Reduce speed and keep your distance. There are not many Pied Oystercatchers or Little Terns left, so please drive carefully! Watch out, they often shelter in wheel ruts.