The Hermitage Foreshore Walk is a wonderful way to explore Sydney Harbour from the perspective of South Head. This walk starts from Nielsen Park and follows a well maintained track along the narrow strip of harbour-side bushland to Bayview Hill Rd. Along the way, you will visit some secluded beaches and visit the historic Strickland House. A great walk exploring the history and natural beauty while enjoying a new perspective of the city.

Sydney Harbour National Park

Shark Bay

Located at the northern end of Nielsen Park, this beach faces north across Sydney Harbour. The sandy beach offers a swimming net enclosure, public toilets and change rooms, showers and is a popular place for people to simply relax. The beach is a focal point of Nielsen Park and also boasts a cafe. Protected by the harbour, there is no surf at this beach. The beach is not patrolled. This is a lovely spot, with natural shade not far from the beach.

Nielsen Park Cafe

Open 8-5 daily, this historic cafe offers inside seating and a range of meals, including breakfast, sandwiches and hot food. This is one of a number of buildings in Nielsen Park which are available for functions. For further enquiries, contact 9337 1574. More info.

Degaussing range

This degaussing range, found at Steele Point, was constructed in 1960 and is still operated by the Royal Australian Navy today. Degaussing is the process of removing (or at least reducing) a magnetic field. This degaussing range services four areas in the harbour (about 500m from the building), where metal ships passing over will be automatically de-magnetised. Why? Mostly to prevent the triggering of seabed mines. More info.

Steele Point Gun Emplacement

Construction of this initial emplacement took about three years and was completed in 1874. The sandstone pit once had a steel dome (to protect from shells) and was part of a series of gun emplacements protecting from the threat of invasion. Today, you will find a series of tall sandstone channels and the circular pit where the main gun once stood. A set of un-railed steps leads into the pit - please take care in the area, as the pit is not fenced.

Steele Point Cottage

Why not make a weekend of it? Built in 1880, this one-time gunners' barracks has been restored as a one bedroom getaway. Managed by NPWS, you can hire this cottage (found on Steele Point) from $330 per night (two night min). Great for a romantic weekend away for two. More info.

Steele Point Lookout

Informally named, this fenced lookout is the most northern lookout on the Hermitage Foreshore Walk. There are great harbour views to the city in this well-shaded spot.

Before You walk

Bushwalking is fun and a wonderful way to enjoy our natural places. Sometimes things go bad, with a bit of planning you can increase your chance of having an enjoyable and safer walk. Before setting off on your walk check

- 1) Weather Forecast (BOM Metropolitan District)
- 2) Fire Dangers (Greater Sydney Region, unknown)
- 3) Park Alerts (Sydney Harbour National Park)
- 4) Research the walk to check your party has the skills, fitness and equipment required
- 5) Agree to stay as a group and not leave anyone to walk solo

Think before you TREK

The 'Think before you TREK' program developed by NSW Police & NPWS promotes the benefits of planning ahead for your bushwalking trip by using an easy to remember acronym:

- T Take adequate supplies of food, water, navigation and first aid equipment.
- R Register your planned route and tell friends and family when you expect to return.
- E Emergency beacon (PLB's) should be carried on walks with significant gaps in mobile coverage (check terrain profile).
- K Keep to your planned route and follow the map and walking trails.

Topo Maps

The maps provided on wildwalks are helpful, but there are times where you may need maps covering a broader area. Maps that cover this walk include;

1:25 000 Map Series:91302N SYDNEY HEADS

1:100 000 Map Series:9130 SYDNEY

Grade

This walk has been graded using the AS 2156.1-2001. The overall grade of the walk is determined by the highest classification along the whole track.

Grade 3/6
Moderate track

Length	2.2 km One way
Time	1 Hr
Quality of track	Formed track, with some branches and other obstacles (3/6)
Signs	Clearly signposted (1/6)
Experience Required	No experience required (1/6)

Infrastructure	Generally useful facilities (such as fenced cliffs and seats) (1/6)

Are you ready to have fun?

Please ensure you and your group are well prepared and equipped for all possible hazards and delays. Check park closures, weather information and Fire Danger Rating before setting out. Optional side trips and alternate routes noted are not included in this walk's overall grade, length or time estimate. Please allow extra time for resting and exploring areas of interest. The authors, staff and owners of wildwalks take care in preparing this information but will not accept responsibility for any inconvenience, loss or injury you may experience. Please take care, have fun - Happy Walking.

0 | Greycliffe Ave Car Park

(200 m 3 mins) From the lower end of the car park on Greycliffe Ave, this walk heads around the gate and along the sealed path (driveway) towards the water, passing the 'Sydney Harbour National Park' sign. After 250m, the path leads to a four-way intersection just past the garbage bins.

Continue straight: From the intersection, this walk heads towards the water following the wide path. The path soon bends left (near the toilet block, on the right) and heads behind the beach, past the large information sign. Soon the path heads over the 'Dressing Pavilion' tunnel and, 250m later, comes to the front of the Nielsen Park Cafe with its great water views.

0.2 | Shark Bay

Located at the northern end of Nielsen Park, this beach faces north across Sydney Harbour. The sandy beach offers a swimming net enclosure, public toilets and change rooms, showers and is a popular place for people to simply relax. The beach is a focal point of Nielsen Park and also boasts a cafe. Protected by the harbour, there is no surf at this beach. The beach is not patrolled. This is a lovely spot, with natural shade not far from the beach.

0.2 | Nielsen Park Cafe

Open 8-5 daily, this historic cafe offers inside seating and a range of meals, including breakfast, sandwiches and hot food. This is one of a number of buildings in Nielsen Park which are available for functions. For further enquiries, contact 9337 1574. More info.

0.2 | Nielsen Park Cafe

(150 m 3 mins) Continue straight: From Nielsen Park Cafe, this walk heads the short distance along the path in front of the cafe and behind the beach (keeping the water to your right). The path heads past the 'William Albert Notting' and 'Niels R.W. Nielsen, MLA' memorial (on your left) to soon find a four-way intersection (at the base of some steps) at the eastern end of Shark Bay.

Continue straight: From the intersection, this walk follows the 'Hermitage Foreshore Walking Track' sign up the stairs. The path soon flattens out though the open grassy area, and heads up a few more steps to come to an intersection with a road (driveway) next to the fenced degaussing range (on your right).

0.35 | Degaussing range

This degaussing range, found at Steele Point, was constructed in 1960 and is still operated by the Royal Australian Navy today. Degaussing is the process of removing (or at least reducing) a magnetic field. This degaussing range services four areas in the harbour (about 500m from the building), where metal ships passing over will be automatically de-magnetised. Why? Mostly to prevent the triggering of seabed mines. More info.

0.35 | Optional sidetrip to Steele Point Gun Emplacement

(50 m 1 mins) Turn sharp right: From the intersection, this walk heads up the driveway, keeping the degaussing range fence just to your left. At the end of the driveway, the walk heads across the grass to find the Steele Point Gun Emplacement just behind the degaussing range. Beware of the unfenced drop into the emplacement. At the end of this side trip, retrace your steps back to the main walk then Turn right.

0.35 | Steele Point Gun Emplacement

Construction of this initial emplacement took about three years and was completed in 1874. The sandstone pit once had a steel dome (to protect from shells) and was part of a series of gun emplacements protecting from the threat of invasion. Today, you will find a series of tall sandstone channels and the circular pit where the main gun once stood. A set of un-railed steps leads into the pit - please take care in the area, as the pit is not fenced.

0.35 | Degaussing range

(30 m 1 mins) Veer right: From the intersection, this walk heads along the road, keeping the degaussing range to your right. Just after the 'Steele Point Cottage' sign, the road comes to an intersection marked with a large 'Hermitage Foreshore Walk' sign, in the grassy clearing on your right.

0.38 | Steele Point Cottage

Why not make a weekend of it? Built in 1880, this one-time gunners' barracks has been restored as a one bedroom getaway. Managed by NPWS, you can hire this cottage (found on Steele Point) from $330 per night (two night min). Great for a romantic weekend away for two. More info.

0.38 | Steele Point int

(60 m 1 mins) Veer right: From the intersection, this walk follows the 'Hermitage Foreshore Walk' sign down the sandstone stairs (with handrail). At the bottom of the stairs, the track leads past a 'Surviving in the city' information sign and 25m later, comes to an unnamed, fenced lookout with good water and city views.

0.44 | Steele Point Lookout

Informally named, this fenced lookout is the most northern lookout on the Hermitage Foreshore Walk. There are great harbour views to the city in this well-shaded spot.

0.44 | Steele Point Lookout

(390 m 9 mins) Turn left: From the lookout, this walk follows the NPWS arrow up the steps (keeping the water to your right). The track leads past a couple of handrails and a sandstone overhang and, at the bottom of some steps, comes to a minor intersection, marked with warning sign (on your right). (This short side track leads to an unfenced view of the harbour - heed the warning). The walk continues along the main track, past another handrail section with more views and 90m later, the track heads down some steps to the foreshore with some interesting rock formations. From here, the walk follows the handrail past the small inlet and along the coastline. After a further 150m, the track comes to a faint intersection marked with another 'Surviving in the City' information sign.

0.83 | Surviving in the City sign int

(250 m 6 mins) Veer right: From the intersection, this walk heads down a few steps, keeping the water to your right. The track soon leads through a fairly weedy section, with great harbour views. The track then leads up some steps over a rise, coming to a minor intersection near a gap in the black wire fence. (The track to the left leads into the northern end of the Strickland House property). Here, the walk turns right and heads down the hill, where the track then tends left and down some steps onto the northern end of Milk Beach.

1.08 | Milk Beach

Milk Beach is a small, secluded, sandy beach in Sydney Harbour National Park, on the inside of South Head. In the 'back yard' of Strickland House, this beach is a memorable spot along the Hermitage Foreshore Walk. The beach is about 50m wide and faces south-east. The views across the water to the city and to Shark Island are great. A seat on the grassy clearing behind the beach makes a very inviting offer to sit and enjoy for a while. This is also a great place to get the toes wet.

1.08 | Milk Beach

(100 m 2 mins) Veer left: From Milk Beach, this walk heads to the south-eastern end of the beach (the far end, with the water on your right), and heads up the steps to the bench seat and a large 'Hermitage Foreshore Walk' sign behind the beach. Here, the walk turns right and heads up the stone stairs and past a NPWS arrow marker to find a large grassy clearing and some picnic tables at the back of Strickland House.

1.17 | Strickland House

First established in 1913 and named after Sir Gerald Strickland (Governor of NSW 1913-1917), Strickland House was a women's convalescent home until 1989. Today, the house and gardens are hired out for private functions, however, if just walking through, this is a great spot to take a break, enjoy the views and rest from the walk. For more information, phone Strickland House on (02) 9337 5999.

1.17 | Strickland House picnic area

(100 m 2 mins) Continue straight: From the Strickland House picnic area, this walk heads along the open grassy area, keeping the water to your right. The walk heads past a 'Hermitage Foreshore Walk - Tingara Beach' sign 35m before coming to the end of the lawn and a gap in the fence. The walk heads through the gap in the fence and, 20m later, comes to an intersection at the top of Tingara Beach track (on your right).

1.27 | Optional sidetrip to Tingara Beach

(30 m 1 mins) Turn right: From the intersection, this walk heads downhill along the rocky steps, directly away from the house. The track soon leads to Tingara Beach. At the end of this side trip, retrace your steps back to the main walk then Turn right.

1.27 | Top of Tingara Beach track

(120 m 3 mins) Continue straight: From the intersection, this walk heads along the path, keeping the house up to your left. After 25m, the track comes to a minor intersection (with steps on the right that lead down to a small beach with good harbour views). From here, the walk continues along the main track for another 20m to a three-way intersection (with sandstone steps on the left that lead up to Tingara Ave).

Continue straight: From the intersection, this walk heads down the few sandstone steps (keeping the water to your right) and then heads through a grassy section behind the houses. The track soon heads down some steps (with a handrail) then mostly up the next set of stairs to turn right onto a large rock with a handrail. Soon, the walk heads past a sandstone wall and down the brick then sandstone steps, to find a bench seat and fenced Ralph Newbould Lookout.

1.4 | Ralph Newbould Lookout

This lookout boasts great views as well as being home to a bench seat and memorial to Ralph Newbould. The lookout is a shaded spot with great views across the harbour to the city. Ralph was a keen bushwalker who lead walks most Wednesdays for the National Parks Association of NSW. His sudden death whilst walking on 8 November 2000 was a great shock to the many who walked with him and especially to his family. More info.

1.4 | Ralph Newbould Lookout

(80 m 3 mins) Continue straight: From Ralph Newbould Lookout (keeping the water on your right), this walk follows the railing around to the left and heads up the steps. The track leads directly behind the houses then down the brick steps to follow the track behind Hermit Bay beach to a shady spot just before the small bridge, near some interesting rock formations.

1.48 | Hermit Bay beach

This secluded beach in Hermit Bay (just north of Hermit Point) is home to a 40m-wide, east facing sandy beach. Behind the beach is the Hermitage Foreshore walk track and a few houses through the trees. The beach is lined with some natural sandstone sculptures of interesting form and is a quiet place to enjoy the wide harbour views.

1.48 | Hermit Bay Beach

(110 m 2 mins) Veer right: From Hermit Bay Beach, this walk crosses the small bridge and follows the foreshore, keeping the water to your right. The walk heads through the grassy clearing with a few picnic tables and sandstone boat pens to come to the signposted 'Hermit Point'.

1.59 | Hermit Point

Hermit Point hosts a grassy open area and is surrounded by a sandstone sea wall. The sea wall has been shaped to host some boat pens, a launch and a timber wharf. The area is now protected as part of the Sydney Harbour National Park. Here, you will find a number of picnic tables, a small sandstone cave, natural shade and some great water views. The headland, bay and ultimately the Hermitage Foreshore Walk, derive their names from the large home behind this point. The Hermitage was originally built in 1840 by Alexander Dick, then in the 1870's, Edward Mason Hunt undertook some significant renovations, turning it into a Victorian Rustic Gothic house.

1.59 | Hermit Point

Veer right: From the intersection, this walk heads down the steps towards the beach. The track then comes to a boardwalk, a 'Hermitage Foreshore Walk - Queens Beach' sign and a short set of steps leading down to the beach.

1.84 | Queens Beach

Queens Beach is a small, 50m wide sandy beach that faces west, near Queens Ave Vaucluse. The beach has the Hermitage Foreshore walk running behind it. The beach is protected from the ocean surf and is not patrolled. There are great views across the harbour to the city and Harbour Bridge. A quiet spot, providing an excuse to enjoy the view and splash the feet.

1.84 | Queens Beach

(330 m 8 mins) Continue straight: From behind Queens Beach, this walk follows the timber boardwalk, keeping the water and beach to your right. The walk then follows the handrail past some more harbour views then up a series of sandstone steps. About 40m from the top of the steps, the track passes behind the fenced Convent of the Sacred Heart Cemetery. A further 75m beyond the cemetery, the walk passes a minor intersection (the steps on the right lead down to some old sandstone foundation at the water's edge with good views). The walk continues along the main track and after 90m, follows the concrete path which soon bends left and leads to the end of Bayview Hill Road.
